Dear Parents,

Welcome to a new academic year. We have several new initiatives in store but chief among them is the additional support to SEND students who have been diagnosed with a learning disability. Every leader on our leadership team including myself will personally support the progress of 5 to 6 students throughout the year and give additional help and guidance to the students in our care. I believe that when leaders champion the learning of students, they give them the additional impetus to gain momentum. This year all students in Wave 3 are covered by a senior leader besides the assistance given by the Achievement Centre, the teacher and the supervisor.

Our students will have a completely new MAKERSPACE called THE HUB equipped with 3D printers and Hummingbird kits where they will use their Microbits to give their inventions life! This space will host a DECODER Hub- a unique space to work with Microbits and other Coding equipment.

As a Green School we are also going to power the school using Solar Energy with the help of DEWA as we bring sustainable practice into the school. We are excited to be working on this pilot project to conserve energy use. Please do continue to send E waste and old newspapers to the school as we have ongoing arrangement to recycle paper as well as E waste.

We are also excited to invest our new prefects, leaders, Green Teams and members of the student council later this month as well as bring to you the Young Chefs' Academy.

On the 13th evening we will be hosting our very first TED Ed Club Talks evening to showcase the excellent oratorical skills of our students. We will be once again commencing the TED Ed Clubs this year to encourage children to build their confidence and talk with passion.

As part of the Afternoon Activities for Advancement- AAA, we are introducing the Shiamak Davar dance classes at school as an optional program for all those interested in enrolling their students. The classes are already underway and we would like to encourage those who are interested to enroll for the same.

Our school is a unique learning environment that caters to the holistic development of students and we would very much like parents to encourage their children to take part in as many activities as we have on offer.

We look forward to an exciting April with plenty of learning opportunities for both children and our parents.

Sincerely,

Warm regards,

Asha Alexander
